Paperback. Book Condition: New. Paperback. 198 pages. A CREATURE. . . half boy, half mormon cricket, destined to be a do-gooder yet shunned by the public for his odd appearance. Legend says the creature would come out at night and climb to the top spire of the temple in order to watch over the city and help those in need. There'd never been an LDS superhero before and it was never the boy's intention to become one, but somehow he did and this is his incredibly wacky story. A hilarious tale of a little Mormon boy accidentally left behind in the salty Utah desert by his loving, but highly overpopulated Mormon family. The boy faces grave danger before being rescued and well cared for by a swarm of mormon crickets. Through a series of mysterious events the little lost boy's DNA exchanges with his adoptive mormon cricket fathers so that in the future whenever he becomes scared or angry the boy becomes part mormon cricket. After returning to the human world his family tries to hide this unfortunate family secret, but the boy accidentally reveals his unusual physical traits and talents while defending a friend at school. The world soon learns of the mysterious cricket boy from Provo, Utah. Not knowing what to do, his parents seek the advice of their LDS Bishop and a super, secret LDS mission call is extended to the cricket boy. He becomes Mormon Cricket Man whose mission is to protect the Universe from the forces of evil. Filled with hilarious characters, thrilling adventures, and a well-crafted story, readers young and old will lose themselves in the pages of this crazy adventure. Mormon Cricket Man - The first LDS superhero is born! This item ships from multiple locations. Your book may arrive from Roseburg,OR,...
