A nostalgic travel memoir of the adventures of two young, almost penniless, Scots who decided to fulfil their ambitions by hitchhiking their way across Europe in 1969. Step back to a time long gone when a courthouse encounter in Hawick launched a friendship that was to blossom with the help of an East London flat and an occasional flirtation with pints of warm bitter, one of which triggered a trip that lingers in the memory more than forty years on. Meet the multitude of characters who dipped in and out of the lives of the Borderers as they made their way to the warm sunshine of Crete. French, Belgian, German, Swiss, Italian and Greek . . . all characters generous to a tee who left an indelible message that people are the same whatever their creed, colour or language. From an impromptu thunderstorm-enforced beer tent party in the Rhine valley and a frightening encounter in a late night beer keller to the warmth and friendliness of a young Swiss woman, the trail winds its way into the Alps. A summer snowstorm almost buried the duo who ended up in sun-drenched Milan that same day, still dressed as if for the Arctic. A night time spent next to a motorway in the city heralded a hairy trip to Florence and a lunchtime introduction to Chianti. A Communist councillor with a dodgy command of English; an amazing car ride conversation that consisted of the names of footballers; a first view of beautiful Taranto; and a bowl of spaghetti to die for following a wonderful weekend as guests of a honeymooning couple at the tiny seaside town of Vieste, left lingering...
